2024/680 - Speed awareness courses

In response to your recent request for information regarding;

I am requesting data under the Freedom of Information Act. Specifically, I would like information from June 2023 to June 2024 (12 months) regarding the number of people invited to complete a speed awareness course. Please provide the data broken down into the following categories:

- Age
- Gender
- Location
- Cost of the course

Additionally, please provide data for the same period on the number of people who failed to complete or attend the course.

Please find attached an excel spreadsheet.

Please note: we do not hold gender information. We would also have to access each case individually to find out where the courses were sat and then find out the price for that area, so that information is also not available/held.

However, we can advise though that the price of a speed awareness course from the North Wales provider (TTC) is £88.

Any offences showing withdrawn have been offered a course and have either not booked within the time frame provided or have requested that the course offer is withdrawn as they want to either comply by paying the fixed penalty of £100 and 3 points or they are requesting court.

It is also worth noting that this is live data and as such, it is changeable.

It can also take up to 6 months to resolve a case so many of these offences are still live and the statuses will change over the forthcoming months.

Furthermore, we do not hold the 'age' only the person's date of birth. We cannot provide this information as it would be a breach of the Data Protection Act (explained below).

The information you have requested constitutes personal data of which you are not the subject and disclosure of the information to a member of the public otherwise than under the Data protection Act 2018 would contravene the data protection principles.

Section 40 is a class based exemption, therefore it is not necessary to evidence harm caused by disclosure.

The data protection rights of a third party would be breached by disclosure, therefore section 40(2) is an absolute exemption and a Public Interest Test is not necessary. This is so because personal data is governed by another law (The Data Protection Act 2018) and there are two elements to this exemption.

All requests made under FOIA are applicant blind. A request must be treated as such and a public authority will always view any disclosure as into the public domain. Thus North Wales Police must be satisfied that any release of information will be potentially available to the general public. It is therefore on this basis that the following is relevant.

The first element of this exemption is engaged if the information requested constitutes personal data and is made by the data subject. The information will be covered by section 40(1) and the request will be dealt with under the Data Protection Act, rights of access.

The second element of this exemption is engaged if the personal data is about someone other than the applicant. Where someone makes an application for information other than the data subject, disclosure of that information will often constitute a breach of the Data Protection Act covered by section 40(2).

Personal data is regulated under the principles of the Data Protection Act and when information contains personal data about a third party it can only be refused if disclosure would breach any of the data protection principles.

As previously highlighted, any disclosure under the FOIA is a public disclosure and release of the identity of an individual would breach principles 1 & 2 of the Data protection Act 2018.

These principles require that: 1) the processing of personal data for any of the law enforcement purposes must be lawful and fair and 2) the law enforcement purpose for which personal data is collected on any occasion must be specified, explicit and legitimate.

'Data subjects' are provided with certain legal enforceable rights under the Data Protection Act 2018. The fact that the information is held for lawful policing purposes, disclosing it onwards would breach the principles, and would be incompatible with the data subject's right that their data is held securely. By disclosing this information, the force could be subject to enforcement proceedings under the act if it breaches any of those principles.

Therefore, in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter acts as a Refusal Notice under section 17 (1) of the legislation.

There is also no requirement for us to create information to answer FOI requests therefore we shall not be calculating the age.

THIS INFORMATION HAS BEEN PROVIDED IN RESPONSE TO A REQUEST
UNDER THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 2000, AND IS CORRECT AS AT 16/07/2024
